WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.— President Roosevelt's message to Admiral Sperry, made public today, follows:

"Convey to his majesty, the emperor of Japan, my best wishes for his continued good health and the happiness of all the inhabitants of his realm. Express the high gratification afforded me and the people of the United States at this opportunity, which permits the commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet in person to present my appreciation of the friendship existing from the earliest times between the United States and Japan, and the honor to the United States of the invitation for the Atlantic fleet to visit the empire of Japan, on its practice cruise around the world. You will express to his majesty my dearest wish for the strengthening and continuance of the cordial relations which exist, and have always existed, between the two countries."

The Mikado Reciprocates.

TOKIO, Oct. 20.—Admiral Sperry, communicating with the president through the navy department, said:
"I read the president's telegram to the emperor at an audience this morning, and the mikado's reply follows:

"It affords me special pleasure to welcome you, the representative of the American navy, and to receive from your respected president, this very friendly message. I request you to assure the president that I most sincerely appreciate, and most cordially reciprocate his sentiments of friendliness and good will. It is a source of profound satisfaction that these most cordial relations of regard and good correspondence exist between Japan and the United States, and my thanks are due the president for affording my subjects, by your visit, an opportunity to give proof of their sincere attachment to your countrymen. I also wish you convey to the president this message:

"Historic are the relations of good understanding and genuine friendship with the United States, and I count it a valued feature of my reign that there shall be in the future as in the past a constant aim and desire to seal the ties of amity uniting the two countries by indissoluble bonds of perfect accord. I trust the same success so far attending your voyage may be with you to the end."

Luncheon Follows Audience.

Immediately after the audience the emperor personally, with the princess, gave a luncheon to our ambassador, the flag officers and captains of the fleet, all the ministers of state and the most distinguished officers of the Japanese army and navy.

Following the brilliant social function, Sperry and his officers are resting tonight at Shiba palace. The day's most important event was the reception by the mikado of the high naval officials. Our ambassador presented Sperry to the mikado, expressing the president's good will,
and deeply affecting the mikado, who reciprocated the felicitations. Prime Minister Keomura and Naval Minister Satto entertained the officers at dinner tonight.

The first event yesterday in the reception to the American fleet was the departure of Rear Admiral Sperry and the admirals and captains of the fleet for Tokyo. They were driven to the station in carriages elaborately decorated with flowers, and entered a special train at 9 o'clock. Even the carriages of the train were especially prepared for this occasion, having been newly painted and draped with American flags and beautiful decorations, while the interiors were filled with flowers.

Along the whole eighteen miles of interspersed with quaint thatched the way to Tokyo, through a country cottages and native villages, there was a continual ovation to the Americans. Each village school turned out in force, the children lining the track as the train sped by, every pupil waving two flags, American and the emblem of Japan, and every one cheering continuously.

"MR. HEARST'S THIEVES"

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Under the title "Mr. Hearst's Thieves," this week's issue of Collier's Weekly, which will be on the news stands Thursday, contains an article by Arthur H. Gleason, telling the inside history of the way in which the John D. Archbold letters were stolen by a confederate clerk named Charles Stump from the Standard Oil office, photographed, returned and the photographs sold to Mr. Hearst's newspapers for a trifle over $12,000.

"And yet, you know," Stump is quoted by Mr. Gleason as saying recently, "Mr. Hearst hasn't begun to read the best of the letters. He's beginning easy. Wait till you hear him read the Senator Penrose and the Senator Aldrich letters. Then there'll be a sensation. What's happening now is nothing."

Aldrich Defiant
Aldrich today arrived from Europe and said regarding the intimation that Hearst has letters connecting him with Standard Oil:

"If anyone has letters concerning me they think would interest the public they can publish them. Let them go as far as they like."

PLAN RECEPTION FOR LA FOLLETTE

WILL ADDRESS THROG AT THE AUDITORIUM TOMORROW

LACROSSE NOT REPRESENTED

Neither Chairman Nor Secretary of County Committee Attend
Milwaukee Session

Senator Robert M. La Follette will be accorded a great welcome when he reaches La Crosse over the Southeastern at 6:10 tomorrow night. He will be met at the depot by the county executive committee, the various republican candidates, a brass band and a number of prominent La Crosse politicians.

He will be escorted to the Hotel Soddard for dinner and while there will meet a number of friends. The meeting at the Auditorium will be called at 8 o'clock sharp and the speaker will in all probability be introduced by County Chairman Boss-hard.

Bangor to Turn Out.
Communications have been received by Secretary John Swan announcing that the Bangor delegation is coming down in a body with banners flying and will be accompanied by a brass band.

A number of the surrounding towns have signified their intention of turning out in a body and arrangements will probably be made to seat the visitors in sections.

At West Salem Tonight.
A rally is to be held at West Salem tonight. Attorney James Thompson and B. F. Bryant of this city addressing the meeting. It is expected that the "turnout" at this meeting will be large.

Didn't Attend Edmonds' Meet.
Neither County Chairman Boss-hard, Secretary John Swan or the members of the county executive committee attended the meeting

REDUCE TARIFF UPON WOOD PULP

CONGRESSMAN MANN DECLARES
IT MUST BE DONE

OUR SUPPLY IS NOW SMALL

Canadian Pulp Must be Free or Price of Paper Will Become Serious Matter Soon

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 20.—After a month's investigation of the pulp wood and print paper industry of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the committee of six appointed by congress to study conditions, will recommend that the duty on wood pulp and print paper be revised.
Congressman Mann said:

"My belief is that the committee will recommend a revision of the tariff on Canadian wood pulp and Canadian print paper. From our investigation it appears that the pulp wood supply of the northwest, at the present rate of consumption, will not last many years. Wisconsin and Michigan have many paper mills and nearly all the spruce timber is shipped from Minnesota. It is easy to conceive the result. With plants in three states—working on this limited supply, Canada appears the only salvation. If we cannot arrange matters so that pulp timber can be brought cheaply here, the price of print paper will be sky high." Mann and Wm. H. Ryan of Buffalo, accompanied by a stenographer, today examined a number of Duluth dealers in wood pulp. This afternoon the committee inspected Cloquette and the Northwestern Paper company.

MITCHELL SUSTAINED.
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Federal Judge Grosscup today refused to remove Sidney Mitchell, receiver for the American Straw Board company and the United Box Board company.
This action was taken on a petition of a minority of the stockholders, alleging favoritism.

SUPREME COURT WON'T RE-INSTATE THE DR. TILL CASE

SUPREME COURT DECIDES NOT TO INTERFERE

CASE NOT IMPORTANT ENOUGH

ALL OTHER MEANS MUST BE EX-HAUSTED FIRST

INDIAN IS BOUND BY LAW

Fish and Game Statutes Affect Him
Despite Territorial Treaty Covenants

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—In the matter of the application of the attorney for the state board of health to have the supreme court exercise its power of supervision over the inferior courts in compelling the circuit court of St. Croix county to reinstate the case against Dr. Till, the Somerset "plaster doctor," arrested for violating the law against practicing medicine without a license, the supreme court today held that it would not exercise this power of supervision until all other remedies have been exhausted and the status of the case becomes extraordinary. The high court does not consider the Till case of sufficient importance to qualify interference.

The court also decided in the case of Michael Morrin, a citizen Indian living off the reservation accused of violating the state fish and game laws, that all Indians whether on the reservations or off, or citizens or not,
are amenable to the state laws, federal treaties to the contrary or no.
In effect the court holds that the admission of a state into the union on equal footing with other states abro-gates federal treaties.

LA FOLLETTE MAKES HIS POSITION PLAIN

STOUGHTON, Wis., Oct. 20.—
"Because a platform holds some propositions that do not meet my approval and some that I hold do not meet the approval of the great mass of the republicans in the nation, I feel it would be folly to go out and try to defeat the republican party, just as in 1896, in Wisconsin, I refused to leave the party in this state to join a weak antagonist or start an independent movement. It seems to me the same situation exists today," said Senator La Follette in his address here last night.

"The history of the struggle in Wisconsin points the way we should go," continued the senator. "Our taxation laws, our railroad laws, our insurance laws and the legislation enacted under Gov. Davidson, who has been carrying forward the progressive movement right up to this very hour, all show we should rely upon the party that made that great record in this state and in Iowa and in Kansas and in Nebraska and in all the northern states."

It was noticeable that in commending Governor Davidson's official administration the senator adroitly phased it as existing "up to this very hour," deftly avoiding any expression as to the executive's fore-casted attitude enmity to the tariff.

In introducing Senator La Follette
A. C. Schelldrup said:

"I venture to say to you tonight that if God spares his life that young man will one day become the president of the United States."

WON'T ANSWER CHARGES.

PORTAGE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Replying to the charge that he has assumed a reactionary attitude by voting against the La Follette tariff plank rejected by the republican state platform committee, Governor Davidson said in a speech here last night:

"I am a candidate for governor by will of republicans of Wisconsin. I am a candidate for no other office.
I make this statement for the information of my party associates, not for the gratification of the democratic candidate for governor, nor to reply to his unjust charges. I shall not attempt to reply in any sense to personal and political misrepresentations made against me by the democratic candidate for governor further than to say they are neither dignified nor truthful."

HOW MORSE CUT ICE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Edward Morse, the government investigator of the ice trust, was a witness today at the trial of Morse and Curtis. He detailed manipulations, showing how the trust was formed. He said Morse resorted to "wash sales" and other speculative tricks, to dispose and keep up the price of American ice.
He had 60 accounts with various brokers for manipulation, designed in peculiar fashions to cover operations.
Wesley Oler, president of the American Ice company, was another witness. He made guarded statements and was a difficult witness.

BADGER LEADS THE FIGHT FOR REFORM OF THE HOUSE RULES

HON. JOHN M. NELSON.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—Congressman John M. Nelson, republican, who is leading the fight for a reform of the rules of the house of representatives, is serving his second term from the Second district of Wisconsin. He is one of the youngest members of the house, and is known as one of the ablest and most fearless politicians of Wisconsin, having received his training under Senator La Follette, of whom he is one of the most trusted proteges. Mr.
Nelson gave an exhaustive address this week before the City club of Chicago, showing the historical devel-

"JIM" HILL SHAKES THE TRUSTS DOWN

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—In his news letter to the Record-Herald today Walter Wehman says:
"During the past week the republican national campaign fund has been enriched by contributions of several hundred thousand dollars, and James J.
Hill is the man who has raised the money. Mr. Hill has thus taken the place in the Taft campaign which 'My dear Mr. Harrington' held in the Roosevelt campaign four years ago. For the first time since the opening of this year's battle the republican national committee feels comfortable financially, and able to push the work with vigor during the last fortnight of the campaign. President Roosevelt's influence was enough to get a hundred thousand dollars from Andrew Carnegie, and some one stirred up Mr. Hill. It was James J. Hill who came to the rescue of Mark Hanna during the dark days of the first Bryan-McKinley fight.
Mr. Hill used his personal influence among the rich men of New York and procured for Mr. Hanna a considerable part of the six million dollars fund that was used in that campaign.
Now he has come to the rescue of Mr. Hitchcock in a similar way. He has spoken the words in the right ears in New York which have resulted in a surprising increase of the funds in the war chest."

LOVE WINS—ABRUZZI TO WED MISS ELKINS

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Duke de Abruzzi has not booked in his own name to sail from France, but at the Italian embassy it is said he will leave here incognito and immediately sail to America, where he will wed Miss Elkins. The embassy has official information that the king has consented to the marriage and that the bride will be received as a royal princess.

To Have Warship Escort.

ROME, Oct. 20.—The ministry of the marine today ordered the Italian cruisers Fiermosca, now at New York, and the Etruria, at a South African port, to act as escort of the Duke of Abruzzi, when he sails from America after his marriage to Miss Elkins. This action virtually amounts to an official announcement of the engagement, though until the king communicates the engagement to the prime minister, it will still be considered "in abeyance." It was announced today that the duke and his bride will sail for Italy in the cruiser Etruria.

Elkins Will Not Talk

ELKINS, W. Va., Oct. 20.—When the cable dispatches in connection with the latest reports of the engagement between Abruzzi and Katharine were brought to the attention of Senator Elkins today, he said:
"This information is news to my family. I cannot say anything because I don't know anything about the matter."

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 20.—Five people were hurt in an auto accident at Franklin today. The machine struck a telegraph pole. Two women of the party, it is believed, will die.

Discovery Proceedings of Ekern in Alleged Libel are Concluded Today

WHITEHALL, Wis., Oct. 20.— (Special.)—The examination of A. T.
Twesme under the discovery statute before Magistrate Gibson today concluded the inquiry of Speaker Ekern regarding the facts as to the responsibility for the publication in the Arcadia Leader during the primary campaign of an alleged libelous article in which there appeared a strong intimation that Ekern, then a member of the legislature, had been paid $1,000 by Senator Isaac Stephenson for his support in the senatorial fight before the legislature two years ago.

Mr. Twesme testified that Bert Gipple, editor of the Republic, had honestly under the discovery statute told him that Ekern had disseminated the intimation that Ekern had dishonestly profited by his support of Stephenson had been made by Gipple.
This, his testimony suggested, was advanced as indicating that no intent to misrepresent existed. Mr.
Twesme had read the copy, and in answer to a question by Mr. Higbee, Ekern's attorney, he admitted that he knew Ekern had received the $1, 000 from Stephenson as a contribution to the La Follette presidential campaign funds.

A Little Confusion

A statement published in The Chronicle this morning, apparently after a telephone conversation with someone at the hearing yesterday, conflicts with the testimony of Twesme to the effect that Mr. Gipple made the interlineations. The statement follows:

"Mr. Twesme will also show that he had no intention to libel his opponent. A correction made in the copy by Mr. Twesme after it was prepared by another person is considered conclusive proof that Twesme had no intention to misrepresent Ekern."

Contempt Case Delayed.

The review of the Ness contempt proceedings, resulting from Editor Ness of the Arcadia Leader declining to answer the question as to who signed the $9 check he received for the publication of the alleged libelous article, which was scheduled to be had before Judge Fruit here today, was postponed indefinitely upon stipulation of Attorneys Higbee and Frank Winter.

Mr. Higbee has cases to try before Judge Fruit, who is sitting in a regular term here, and he will remain in Whitehall for a day or two.

BILLIK WILL APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Herman Billik, who was convicted of killing the Vrzal family, will appeal to the president, according to Father P. J. O'Callaghan, who declared that every inch of possible ground will be fought to save his life.

STORM AND WRECK.

LONE TREE, Wyoming, Oct. 20.— Trains in all parts of the state are delayed and trainmen are busy today repairing the damage to the roads and cleaning away the snow resulting from the worst gale and blizzard in this section in a long time.

A caboose was blown from the track of the Union Pacific near here and dropped down a 30 foot bank, killing 6 men and injuring 30, some fatally.

Reports this afternoon say that only two were killed. Four of the 30 injured are not reported to recover.

townspeople at bay with revolvers, while their companions inside blew and looted the bank at Hurst, a mining town near here today, and escaped with $1,500. A posse is pursuing. So far as is known, none were hurt.

TAFT FOR STOCKHOLDERS

Educator Says He's Not for Depositors—La Follette Students in Bryan Club

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—A sensation was caused here last night when Prof. E. A. Ross of the university faculty, a noted sociologist and a life long republican, declared that when President Roosevelt went out of power the old republican organization and the old Hanna principles will come into leadership. He took issue with Prof. W.
A. Scott, head of the banking department of the university, on the guaranty of bank deposits, and declared the republican idea "shows that the Taft party is more in sympathy with the stockholders than with the depositors."

"When President Roosevelt goes out of power the old republican organization and the old Hanna principles will come into leadership, for the progressives have not captured the organization of the national republican party," said Prof. Ross.
"The old machine has not moved out of its tracks and has succeeded in nominating Joe Cannon's waterboy as vice president. The election of senators by direct vote, publicity of campaign expenditures and planks in favor of labor legislation, were thrown off the republican platform.
These are principles for which we have fought in Wisconsin."

Many of the university students who formed the La Follette organization have joined the democratic club.

BALDWIN IN BOSTON— NEW YORK AIR LINE

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The promoters of the Boston to New York Airship line have engaged Captain Baldwin, inventor and builder of the dirigible balloon which was sold to the government, as chief engineer. The company declares it will soon establish a balloon service between New York and Boston, and that it intends to begin work on the design for an air ship.

Heart Troubles

The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. It often happens that a person is born with a weak heart. Then again disease, fevers, over-exertion, anxiety, nervousness, rheumatism, etc. weaken the heart. The result is shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the heart, or in some of the nerves of the chest or abdomen. The heart should be strengthened with a tonic, and for this nothing equals Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had LaGrippe last fall as I thought in a mild form. I was weak, tired feeling, and short of breath; could hardly go about, and a good deal of the time sort of an asthmatic breathing, and extremely nervous. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and now I feel so much better in every way. I am so thankful that I began taking this medicine, and shall not hesitate to tell others how much good it has done me."

ATHLETIC BOARD STOPS USE OF "W"

PROHIBITS STUDENTS WEARING EMBLEMS ON FOBS

MANAGER NOW GETS LETTER

Fourteen Basketball Games Scheduled—Ten to be Played at Madison
This Season

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—Willam H. Witt of Marshfield was appointed to arrange for a mass meeting to stir up enthusiasm for the Marquette game at a meeting of the athletic board last night. The board decided to award the official "W" hereafter immediately after the close of the season instead of at the end of the year, to grant a certificate with each "W," and prohibit the use of the emblem on the lapel of the coat or on a watch fob except by persons to whom it was officially granted. Hundreds of students are wearing small "W's" as a mark of their school, and it is doubtful whether the board can compel them to stop. Foot ball Manager Jelinek of Milwaukee was awarded the emblem, being the first manager to receive the distinction. The board also decided to schedule fourteen basketball games, of which ten will be at Madison.

Several changes were made in the Wisconsin backfield at Camp Randall when Barry sent the squad through light signal work. Muckleston and Culver, the regular backs, were assigned to the crubs, and Bunker and Richards took their places. Jack Wilce, who was the most consistent ground gainer in the Indiana game, was on the side lines and Jacobson played fullback. Osahoff, Messmer and Stiehm were not in the line. Wendt, center on the Chicago 1910 freshman eleven, was out in a suit, but he will not be eligible this year.

Coach Barry last night had little to say regarding the Indiana game on Saturday except that the weather conditions were unfavorable for fast work. The warm temperature kept the men from getting into the game with spirit, and as a result Wisconsin's offense did not appear strong. The Hoosiers were able to gain less than thirty yards through the Badger line.

Complaints are being made by the players about the treatment received at Bloomington. Keckle Moll was the object of several alleged dirty plays, and the coach took him out of the game during the latter part of the second half to protect him. The Hoosiers also are said to have turned their megaphones on the Badgers when they played near the grand stand, which is built close to the field, and to have drowned out the signals by their din.

Stiehm, the big center, who almost got away for a long run after having blocked a punt, was the only Badger to be seriously injured. He suffered a broken nose, but he will be back in the scrimmage in a few days.

It was reported that Charlie Miller, former captain and fullback, was declared eligible to play, but investigation at the engineering dean's office proved the report to be untrue.

SECOND TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

The official results of the inter-scholastic field meet held last Saturday show that the Second district tied with the Seventh district for second place instead of being in third place as was first announced. The summing up of the points after the meet Saturday showed that the Second district had 15 points for third place, while the Seventh district had 16 for second. A mistake in the scoring of the relay race was the cause of the error, that district having finished in third place in this event, giving the Second one more point and making a total score of 16 points, thus tying the Seventh district.

Contrary to the New Eastern System

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 20.—The fall meeting at Latonia began here yesterday under conditions that would have been perfect had it not been for the conflict that seems assured between the Jockey club and the Kentucky racing commission. The attendance was large and the betting extremely heavy, considering the fact that the eastern system of state betting was inaugurated. Col. Jack Chinn, a member of the commission who was expected at the track to report the doings of the books, missed his train at Louisville and arrived too late for the races, this forcing a postponement of a meeting of the racing commission until Wednesday. In the meantime Latonia will run unmolested.

Three favorites won. Old Honesty captured the feature event in handy fashion, leading all the way. Summaries:

First race, five and a half furlongs—Dr. Holzberg, 8 to 5, won; Ariadne, 8 to 5, place, second; Harriet Rowe, 4 to 1, show, third. Time, 1:07.

Second race, six furlongs—Friend Harry, 9 to 20, won; Buffons, 4 to 1, place, second; T. M. Green, 7 to 10, show, third. Time, 1:14.

Third race, six furlongs—Topsy Robinson, 8 to 1, won; Honest, 2 to 5, place, second; Maroles, third. Time, 1:13 3-5.

Fourth race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Old Honesty, won; Lady Martha, 2 to 5, place, second; Hand-bridge, out, third. Time, 1:45 3-5.

Fifth race, one mile—Severus, 3 to 1, won; Hostie Hyphen, place, 4 to 5, second; Sober Cooper, show, 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:40 3-5.

Sixth race, mile and a furlong—Arrow Swift, 7 to 1, won; J. E. McWilliam, 4 to 5, second; Belmore, out to show, third. Time, 1:53 3-5.

MEDWITSKY ON OUTLAW TEAM

The report that Ban Johnson has called a meeting of the National commission to decide in the matter of the Washington team and the Chicago White Sox, in playing with the Gunthers which is an outlaw team, is attracting the attention of a number of fans. The Gunthers are all outlaws and their left fielder is Medwitsky, who was suspended from the La Crosse State league team two years ago.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

MADISON—With Charley Miller, the veteran back, once more in the game, the prospects of the team are even more encouraging, and the Badgers do not fear the game with Minnesota, but look forward to the game with Chicago as the crucial game.

CHICAGO—The return of Coach Leo DeTray from Minneapolis, where he watched the Gophers play Nebraska, brings reports of the strength of the Minnesota team. The Maroon rooters think that this is merely a bear story and hope Wisconsin to be the only contender against Chicago for the western championship.

MINNEAPOLIS—The Gopher team is much stronger than last year, according to the rooters, and they are looking forward to the games with Chicago and Wisconsin.

ANN ARBOR—The followers of the Michigan team are greatly pleased with the showing of the varsity on Saturday and appear cheered by the result.

CINCINNATI—The Reds have finished their barnstorming tour, and each player received $200 as his share of the receipts. The team will rest a week before the trip to Cuba, Oct. 25.

TERRE HAUTE—The residents of Terre Haute have planned a big welcome to Mordecai Brown in the Cubs-Tigers contest today. The fans have purchased a chest of silver and he will be presented with it at the game.

CHICAGO—The receipts of the Cubs-Tigers game Sunday were $4,100. This will be divided among the players.

De Quiz—What do you think of the modern game of football, doctor? Doctor—I think, sir, that the punishment fits the crime.

When two women with little babies get together, they have a lot to talk about.

PLAYERS INELIGIBLE SAYS COMMISSION

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 20.—For playing with teams against the Logan Squares, an independent club in Chicago, eighteen or more ball players are in imminent danger of being permanently barred from baseball, according to an announcement made by the national baseball commission. A fine of $200 is provided for the first offense. It is directed that "every national agreement player who has violated this rule be placed on the ineligible list with the right reserved to each of such players to be heard before the fine is inflicted, in accordance with the provisions of rule 47."

Under this ruling the Washington American league club is directed not to enter into any contracts with any of its players for the season of 1937 who participated in these games unless such players have again been placed on the eligible list, the following being the players: Tannehill, Freeman, Delehanty, McBride, Shipke, Kahoe, Keeley, Johnson and O'Neill, who belongs to Minneapolis. Player Hughes, under reserve to the Boston Americans, and Player Hart, who belongs to the Chicago Americans, also come under the same rule.

The same ruling is announced against the following members of the Milwaukee and Minneapolis American association clubs: O'Neill, Robinson, Wheeler, Kirwin, Dougherty, Smith, Clarke, Olmstead, Hecklinger and Block. Players Most and McNichols are also said to be in line for investigation.

CLABBY & GARDNER AT NEW ORLEANS

MILWAUKEE Oct. 20.—Jimmy Clabby, latest lightweight favorite of Milwaukee, will meet Jimmy Gardner before a club at New Orleans, La., early in November. The route will be fifteen rounds and the weight will be 129 at 3 o'clock, with a $1,000 purse at the stake to be strived for. Clabby at present is in Minneapolis with his manager, Eddie Brunner. Clabby is booked to engage Jimmy Potts, pride of the Flour City, in a ten-round encounter next Monday night.

McFARLAND INJURED: MAY CALL OFF MATCH

STRATFORD, Conn., Oct. 20.—With his lower lip cut through from teeth to surface, Packey McFarland, Chicago's great fighter, was on the point of calling off his match with Leach Cross Wednesday night for the second time. An examination by two physicians this morning revealed the fact that the wound may heal well enough by the time of the battle to enable Packey to be at his best, or nearly so.

the New York fans, the real championship will be fought out at the Polo grounds on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The announcement was made from the stage of the Academy of Music last night, where a crowded house assembled to honor the Giants at a monster banquet.

SIX ROUND BOUT FOR McFARLAND

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Packey McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, after wasting considerable time around Chicago, finally drifted east with his manager, Harry Gilmore, and will have his first match on his present trip with Leach Cross before the Fairmont A. C. in New York on Oct. 21. It will be a six round bout, and there should be no advantage there for the New York boy. From all accounts Cross, who is a young Jewish dentist, will be able to keep Packey busy and there are many of the New York sports who are willing to bet that Packey does not get the newspaper decision, there being no referee decisions given there. If Packey wins he will have plenty of work there, for Tommy Murphy, Young Loughrey, Young Erbe, Bert Keve, and half a dozen others are waiting for him. Owen Moran, the English featherweight champion, also is willing to take McFarland on, Charley Harvey, manager of the Little Briton, having announced in Chicago only recently that he would match Owen against Packey if the latter will do 133, ringside, which is the lightweight limit. Moran and McFarland would draw a packed house anywhere.

TAMMANY TRADES BRYAN FOR CHANLER

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—In an article in the Record-Herald, in which the writer concludes that the national election will turn on New York, Walter Wellman says the Empire state will probably go to Taft as the result of a trade he believes has been made between Tammany and the republicans, which means a loss of power to Tammany. Mr. Wellman says:

"From other worthy a fair degree of credence, comes the report that the republican leaders in New York have made some sort of a deal with Tammany. The great thing for Tammany in this campaign is to beat Hughes. If re-elected, they fear the governor will compel the legislature to interfere with local government in New York city in important particulars, which means a loss of power to Tammany. The republican leaders in New York, from the top down, do not like Hughes. They accepted his nomination sullenly. They will not be at all displeased if he is beaten, because in that event their organization will be free to do as it pleases in the future, as it has done in the past. Their chief concern is for Taft, for the federal patronage. Tammany has the city pickings, anyway, and under Hughes the state patronage is of no value to them. The federal offices are everything. Here are the antecedent conditions which make a deal possible—the republicans to make sure of New York for Taft, which means the White house, and Tammany to make sure of the defeat of Hughes and the election of Chanler. There is reason to believe that such a deal has been made. It will be denied, of course. From both sides will come the most indignant statements that they are standing squarely by their ticket, state and national. But if the deal has actually been made, as we believe, the morning after election will tell the story. There will be a slump in the Tammany vote for Bryan in the city. Up the state, where the republican anti-Hughes bosses are strong, scratched tickets will give Chanler a surprising vote.

SPEED ESTIMATES IS 32 MILES

The Winona Republican-Herald, speaking of the race between the "Yellow Sallie" and the "Flyer Red Wing" Monday, credits the latter boat with a speed of 32 miles an hour down stream, and 24 miles against the current. This would indicate the claim of the Trempealeau man who claimed to have timed the Flyer and found her going at 35 miles was not so far off, at that.

Scotch Woolen Mills Co's Editorial

Ten days ago we told you that we were going to pull off the greatest money-saving sale in the history of our business.

We told you that we bought $10,000 of the bankrupt stock of the Scotch-American Importing Co. at 50 cents on the dollar—the finest fall and winter patterns ever shown.

We promised to put these $25, $30 and $35 goods into suits and overcoats at our popular prices, $15, $17.50, $20, $22.50.

As soon as the people got wise to what we were really offering they began coming—and they've kept it up ever since.

The cooler weather filled our store with old customers and new, buying the latest fall fabrics at rock bottom prices.

Yet there are many fine patterns in suits and overcoats that haven't been cut into, and we want to give you men another chance to secure these remarkable values.

These suits and overcoats will be made up in the smartest styles by our expert cutters and tailors, and will be finished with the idea of giving you such perfect satisfaction that you will come to us regularly for your clothes.

Take this tip from us—come right away or you'll miss the best chance you ever had to get a suit or overcoat for about half usual price, and right when you want it most.

It is the best offer we've ever been able to make you.

Yours truly,

YOUNG ASSAILANTS NOW MURDERERS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Detectives who have been searching for five weeks for two men who choked and robbed Anton Neumann, 1227 Alton street, are now looking for two murderers.

Neumann, who was 68 years old, died in his home from the injuries which he suffered at the time.

At 8 o'clock in the morning, five weeks ago, the old man, who lived with his daughter, was set upon by two young fellows while alone in his house. The men gave him a terrible beating to make him divulge the place where he kept his savings. Then they choked him into insensibility and ransacked the house, securing $150.

DAHL'S FINE EFFICIENCY

Among the state officers whose records seem to entitle them to re-election is State Treasurer Andrew H.
Dahl, of Westby. In our opinion he has not only proved himself a progressive of the highest and most dependable type, but he has shown by his administration of the office he holds that he possesses a practical mind and is equipped with executive ability such as the state is too apt to undervalue in the purely political view of the public service.

A practical illustration of the efficiency of Mr. Dahl's official conduct is found in the saving he has accomplished in his office. In the items of printing, postage, telephone and telegram tolls and express charges his showing is remarkable. In 1905 these items totalled $1,460.79; in 1906 they totalled $2,641.23. In 1907, Dahl's first year in office, they totalled $983.00, and up to Aug. 1, this year, they totalled $541.07, the seven months showing a probable expenditure of approximately $927.00 for the full current year.

That an official has made a saving in his office administration of from 40 to 60 per cent of the expense involved in a substantial element of official expenditure is a mighty fine recommendation for his retention, but to this saving in two years of $2,193 of the taxpayers' money must be added twice as much more.

On taking charge of the office Treasurer Dahl disposed of the services of two clerks with whose assistance he felt he could dispense, one carrying a salary of $1,200 and the other of $900. This total of $4, 200.00 during the period of two years brings the entire saving in the department during 1907-08 up to $6,493, and this reduction of clerk hire was accomplished notwithstanding the fact that the clerical business of the department increased 237 per cent in one section and 561 per cent in another. It might have been expected that instead of reducing the number of clerks, the addition of manyfold more business would have been made the excuse for doubling or even trebling the clerk hire, but the thrifty methods of Mr. Dahl have resulted in a great saving where additional expense would actually have been justified.

Efficiency is the criterion by which public officials should be judged, and the excellent record of Treasurer Dahl clearly entitles him to further recognition. The Tribune would be glad to see this county lay aside all considerations of partisanship and give Mr. Dahl a splendid majority the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

A POLITICAL ANACONCHISM

The efficiency of the "straw vote" as a means of forecasting election results, especially where a definite partisan result is sought, is illustrated by the Record-Herald "straw vote" polled in Wisconsin, a summary of which appeared in The Tribune yesterday. The Chicago paper found means of reaching the deduction from its investigation that Wisconsin will give Taft a majority over Bryan of 87,000, and the accuracy of its conclusions may be inferred from the following paragraph regarding the condition in La Crosse:

"In La Crosse the straw vote presents figures which indicate that a much greater percentage of voters will be transferred from Parker to Taft than from Roosevelt to Bryan.
La Crosse is on the Mississippi river and full of big factories and railroad shops, in addition to the scores of lumber mills. The straw figures are all favorable to Taft. The vote is reported to be thoroughly representative of the city. The congressional district is the Seventh, Congressman Esch's, and the county returned 5,497 votes for Roosevelt and 3,098 for Parker."

The reference to the "scores of lumber mills" in operation here leads to the conclusion that the Record-Herald's "straw vote" was taken back in 1888. There is but one saw mill here, and that is run on a scale that would not have entitled it to recognition back in the real saw mill days of La Crosse. Without the aid of a "straw vote" we feel justified in the emphatic statement that Wisconsin will NOT give Taft a majority of 87,000 over Bryan. And as to the great number of votes that "will be transferred from Parker to Taft," we are inclined to the opinion that they are to be found among the mill hands in those "scores of saw mills" now in operation here.

Senator La Follette is scheduled to deliver an address in this city in the near future. He will urge the election of Judge Taft. He will arraign his friend, Bryan, as a theorist and a dreamer. He is compelled to do this by the party system under which he would be ousted from the party under whose banner he was elected were he to say frankly that he believes Bryan is preferable to Taft as a president. But he will not discuss Taft's platform. He will never tell his hearers that the republican platform from which his own proffered planks were rejected is a better platform than the Bryan platform in which they are incorporated.

The expected—and probably true—story that Tammany has promised to defeat Bryan in New York if the New York republican machine will defeat Hughes, has arrived. The credence that is given it will be general, owing to the undisputed fact that the republican machine in the Empire state dislikes Hughes and Tammany hates Bryan. It is unfortunate indeed that the trade might not have been reversed, giving the governorship to the progressive Hughes and the presidency to the progressive Bryan.

Have you seen the "Doll Congress" at Doerflinger's?

THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN OF 1868

It is familiar history that Abraham Lincoln never lived to fill out his second term of office. It is also familiar legend that Andrew Jackson of Tennessee, who succeeded to the presidency, failed utterly to satisfy his party or his country, despite his native integrity, ability and courage, and secession. Four days after the United States senate by one vote saved Johnson from impeachment, the republican national committee met in the city of Chicago for the purpose of nominating its ticket.

Every great war in which the United States had engaged had developed a military chieftain who stepped from the battlefield to the White House. The Civil War was no exception. On the ballot of the Chicago convention Gen. U. S. Grant was nominated for president. General Grant was not a politician and in fact his political views were hardly known to the public at large. Before the war he had voted with the Democrats but since then had given indications that his sympathies were with the republicans and after his break with Vice-President Johnson, who temporarily made Grant his secretary of war there was no doubt as to where he stood politically. He was nominated for president because the party believed his capacity and ability to successfully battle were a token of an executive capacity which was greatly needed in this era of reconstruction.

Shuyler Colfax of Indiana, serving his third term as speaker of the house of representative, was now nominated for vice-president. The platform contained two important and conspicuous declarations, one relating to negro suffrage and the other to the manner of paying the public debt. In regard to suffrage the platform proposed that in the south suffrage should be demanded universally for the negro, while in the north the states should settle the question for themselves. Provisions in regard to the debt declared that this obligation should be paid dollar for dollar in coin instead of legal tender guarantee, which would have meant partial repudiation. Still the plank regarding the payment of the debt was universally commended and in addition the candidacy of General Grant struck a popular chord of enthusiastic approval which prophesied his easy election.

The Democratic national convention met in the city of New York on July 4, while George H. Pendleton and Chief Justice Chase, both of Ohio, were the leading aspirants for the presidential nomination. Neither of them were satisfactory to the convention. Pendleton favored payment of the debt in legal tender guaranteed notes, which meant outright repudiation. Chase had been too uncertain in his previous political affiliations, having looked first for the Republican nomination and failing there, for the Democratic. In this situation the convention turned to Horatio Seymour of New York, who was presiding over its deliberations as chairman, and on the 21st ballot he was nominated by a unanimous vote. Seymour had been war governor of New York and was a man of tremendous ability and popularity. For vice president Gen. Francis P. Blair of Missouri was named. The platform adopted the declaration that in all of the government obligations not payable by their express terms in coin should be paid in lawful money, or in other words in depreciated money. On the question of suffrage it denied the right of congress to deprive any state, whether northern or southern, of its right to regulate its own limitation of suffrage.

With the strong appeal to the nation to keep its pledged faith with those who aided it with loans in its darkest hours and with an invincible military hero as their candidate the Republicans had from the first an overwhelming advantage. Grant received 214 votes as against 80 for Seymour. Three of the eleven seceded states, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas, took no part in the election. Despite this enormous electoral majority, the joy of the Republicans considerably subsided on a careful diagnosis of the vote, which showed that Grant had been swept into office with negro suffrage, white disfranchisement and carpet-bag government in the south. Such, at least, is the verdict of historians.

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WIKES

"Football"

A gridiron field that huge stands defend.

With a great grim gallows at either end.

A bullying wind and a frightened sky

And a leather ball that goes dancing by—

The hour has struck again for the doughty football men.

And it's "Fall, there, fall, lad, You're snatching at the ball, lad,
That's not the game at all, lad!

Again, now—that's well done!
Quick, now, quick, man.

Don't lie there like a sick man—Lively! That's the trick man, pick up your feet and run!

A-sprawl full-length on the short grown grass

They watch the handling of the kick and pass.

And the slippery dummies squeak and swing

As each in his turn the tacklers spring—

And the veteran may shirk but the novice he must work.

While it's "Scout now, scout, lad, Leave your feet and shoot, lad,
That's the way to do it, lad!

You're learning, learning fast.
Low, get low, man.

Musn't be so slow, man!
That's the way to go, man, you've got the knack at last."

Hark now to the whistle's silver call.
"Line up!" and the center takes the ball.

The signals follow, clear and quick.
For run and line back, punt and kick—

While the coach trots close beside,
to each error open-eyed,
And it's "You, end, stay there!
Tackle, under way, there!

And it's "You, end, stay there!
Don't stand like that and wait!
What are you about, man?
Can't you hear me about, man?

You might as well be out, as half a second late!"

So the days go by and with each in turn

Comes something new for the men to learn.

But one real lesson is still the same.
It's team play only that wins the game!

Nothing's done by one and one but by all in unison!

For it's "Side by side, there!
Let the fullback guide there!
Half, don't run so wide there, Never get alone!

Hard, now, hard, man—
Tackle, stick to guard, man!"

And the boys who learn the lesson may use it when they're grown!

An Immodest Theater.

At the Players' club in New York a prompter said of the late Peter Dailley:

"He had the sunniest, cheeriest disposition. Once I toured with him. The accommodations were sometimes rather rough, and on such occasions the true gold in the man showed forth.

"In a little southern town the dressing rooms were awful. Everybody swore and raged, but Dailley restored them to good humor. He said:
"Why, this is nothing to what I have been up against at times. I played once in a theater where at the end of every act, the stage manager had to come forward and say:
"I must ask the ladies and gentlemen in the audience to be good enough to turn around. The players are about to change their costumes."—Washington Star.

Challenged.

Acting on the advice of a prisoner for whom he was appearing in Dublin a barrister challenged four or five jurymen on the ground that they were prejudiced against his client.
When at last the swearing of the jury was completed, the prisoner leaned over the dock and whispered to his advocate: "The jury's all right now. O! think, but O! want yez to challenge the judge. I've been convicted under him three times already, and maybe he's beginning to have a prejudice agin me."—London

Exposed.

A physician, upon opening the door of his consultation room, asked:
"Who has been waiting longest?"
"I have," spoke up the tailor. "I

SPOTLIGHTS

At the Bijou.

The usual large Monday audiences greeted the new bill at the Bijou last night. The new program is of uniform excellence and presents several acts new to theatre habitués.

Miss Verna, character change artist and Spanish dancer, gave the usual offering of this kind with tamborine and castanets. Her number was pleasing, if somewhat short.

Mr. Petrick's illustrated song this week is entitled: "The Corn is Waving, Annie, Does Your Heart Beat True." Mr. Petrick was in his usual good voice.

The Stoddards in their comedy musical act landed safely on the sunny make-up as the erratic musician is eccentrically humorous which serves as a first rate applause finish. The act is new in material, that is as far as La Crosse is concerned. Mrs. Stoddard is a striking strawberry blonde of fine stage presence who does her part in a quiet and natural way. They scored very strongly, having to take three bows and one encore.

Christopher, the popular magician in modern magical marvels introduced several tricks new to Bijou audience. His is very clever in legerd-main and card manipulation. His feature trick is the mysterious glass clock. He makes use of the old hat trick, but he takes so much out of the derby that would lead one to believe the hat was an inexhaustible well. He was very well received and received deserved applause.

The headliners this week is Clark's dog and pony act. The above act is the best of its kind ever presented in La Crosse, bar none. The animals are handled with a great deal more ease than usually occurs in an arrangement of this sort. There is practically an entire absence of coaching and the dogs and ponies make their entrances and exits on cues undetected by the audience. It is really a dog and pony circus, full of ginger and action, something doing all the time. The dogs do anything from walking a tight rope to turning rows of flips. The limited capacity of the stage greatly handicapped the ponies' work. The number alone is a whole show in itself. It was freely entitled to the appreciative favor of the audience.

The bill closed with three series of motion pictures: "It Sticks to everything, Even Iron," a farce; "Cumber-smoke First Prize," a comic, and "Russian Review of the 50th Regiment," a very interesting film of Russian army maneuvers and the blessing and consecration of the regimental flag by the Russian clergy.

(New York Evening Post.)

It is impossible to develop any industry by a protective tariff law or any other kind of law. The most that law can do is to fatten an industry.
If any industry today is bigger and fatter than it otherwise would be, it has been built up on the ruins of a bigger and naturally more profitable industry. In a word, protective tariff law is legislation to destroy capital, in order to promote poverty, to the end that the rich shall be richer and the poor poorer.

The most level headed man this country has yet produced. Ralph Waldo Emerson, tells us: "The state must consider the poor man and all voices must speak for him. Every child that is born must have a just chance for his bread. Let the amelioration in our laws of property proceed from the concession of the rich, not from the grasping of the poor.
Let us begin by habitual imparting.
Let us understand that the equitable rule is, that no one should take more than his share, let him be ever so rich."

Let those who seek unduly for richness, power, or peace and quietness beware, for in the end, if the rich do not concede, the poor will grasp, with a very rude hand and without much regard for guilt or innocence, right or justice.

Bear in mind that Thursday will be "Dollar Day" at Doerflinger's.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatment, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing.
Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure and local treatment. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It is almost always cures. It is strictly inalcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days twist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, copy covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.

THE TURN OF THE TIDE

By Horace Annecley Vachell

(Copyrighted, 1908.)

Presently pipes were lit, and tobacco smoke mingled with the reek of the small camp-fire which Tom Hen-best had lighted. Mowland threw in the flames a few fir cones; an agreeable resinous odour filled the air.

"How good it is to be alive!" exclaimed Burgess.

Upon the faces of the four men lay an expression of elemental content and repose. Familiar to Hugo was that look. He had seen it a thousand times upon the faces of trappers in the Far West lying round the campfire, upon Indians drifting down the rivers with their canoes full of pelts, upon his Tartar guides in Manchuria, upon the blacks of Somaliland. It was an expression for which you may search in vain through roaring thuroughfares.

"Depends where you are," said Hugo lazily. "It's not good to be alive in a prison."

Burgess nodded and quoted some lines from the "Ballad of Reading Gaol":

"With bars they blur the gracious moon,
And blind the goodly sun;
And they do well to hide their hell,
For in it things are done
That Son of God nor son of man Should ever look upon."

His warm, soft voice thrilled and broke. For the first time Hugo understood the power of the orator to move an audience, and the infinitely greater power of the man of magnetism to transport a listener without ever he pleased.

"Who wrote that?" said Hugo.

Burgess mentioned the most unhappy of men known to our generation. A long silence succeeded. Here in these sylvan spaces, far from the fret and fever of modern life, the men mentioned that name was like a discord, the blast of a motor horn when nightingales are singing. And yet the man was dead—and the poet lived; the good had survived the evil lay in the corruption of the grave. Hugo looked at Burgess—a Galahad, unless all signs were at fault. How fortunate he had been in finding such a friend at the moment when most needed! The young fellow's temperament had quickened in the older man similar emotions long denied expression. But what a gulf lay between them!

THE COMPLETE NEWS OF THE NORTH SIDE TODAY

NEVER GET OUT OF DEBT

Nine-tenths of the people earn just about enough to live on—no matter how much the weekly pay envelope contains. More than half the people are always in debt—sickness and doctor's bills put them behind, and then it is almost impossible to get caught up. How to save doctor's bills thus becomes an important consideration, and it is worth knowing that colds, coughs and throat and lung troubles are prevented and cured by Father John's Medicine, which is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of an eminent specialist for the late Rev. Father John O'Brien, by whom it was recommended and from whom it derived its name. 50 years in use. No opium, morphine or poisonous drugs in any form.

SHOW ESTEEM FOR FORMER ASSOCIATE

DUBUQUE DIVISION TRAINMEN GIVE C. M. AUGHEY RING

PRESENT HANDSOME DIAMOND

Former Chief Dispatcher of Division Who is Transferred to La Crosse Popular With the Boys

The high esteem in which C. M. Aughey, formerly chief train dispatcher of the Dubuque division of the C. M. & St. P., was held by the "boys" of the division was illustrated when a committee from that division consisting of Conductors J. H. Bassett, "Jim" Cassidy and Brake-man W. F. McGill, called upon Mr. Aughey at his new headquarters in La Crosse and presented him with a magnificent diamond ring in a handsome rose gold mounting, the value of which is in the neighborhood of $200. The ring is a present from the trainmen of the Dubuque division with whom Mr. Aughey was associated and its receipt touched the fount of gratitude with the recipient.

Mr. Aughey was recently transferred to the position of chief dispatcher of the Southern Minnesota division with headquarters in La Crosse and has moved his family here from Dubuque.

The Letter from the Boys

The following interesting letter from the boys accompanied the gift: "Mr. C. M. Aughey, La Crosse, Wis.: "Dear Sir.—We, the employees on the Dubuque division of the C. M. & St. P. Ry., extend to you a farewell greeting as chief dispatcher of said division, and ask you to accept this token, as an expression of esteem you was held in, for the fair way we were treated in all of our dealings, and the strict observance of our schedule by you in every way, also the square deals we all received by your decisions, and we are all aware of the fact that you are a man in every way, and have no "hammer" out.

"We all wish you the best of success, and hope your future will be bright and your burdens few, and your advancements many, is the wish of your many friends.

"You have left behind a record that will live in the minds of all of us.

"The rose is considered the purest flower that grows, but botanists have discovered over 300 different kinds. There is but one kind of manhood, straightforward and upright, willing to help others at all times, do unto others as you would be done by, and a square deal to all constitutes real manhood, and we as a body have decided you possess all these qualities.

"Again, we ask you to accept this token, and our best wishes.

"YOUR MANY FRIENDS."

Committee Appointed to Secure a Green Bay Side Track and President Makes Report

The Manufacturers and Jobbers held their regular annual meeting last evening in the rooms of the La Crosse club. Directors for the coming year were elected. Last year's report was read and passed upon showing there was $163.04 in the treasury at the beginning of last year and that there was $305 taken in during the year from dues at $5 apiece. The expense for the year amounted to $216.80 leaving a total on hand of $251.24. The association now numbers nearly 70 members. O. J. Sorensen and the Advance Bedding company sent in their resignation this year.

The most important thing to be brought up at the meeting was the request of the association together with the board of trade to appoint a committee of three each to confer with the Railroad Agents' association in regard to closing the warehouses at 5 o'clock instead of the present hour. The members of the association objected to this and the committee of three appointed to confer with the agents in regard to the matter is composed of W. J. Bryant, C. F. Mitchell and H. J. Hirschheimer. The directors for the coming year are H. J. Hirschheimer, J. W. Bryant, John C. Burns, Carl Mitchell and J. B. Funk.

The officers will be elected at a meeting of the directors in the near future. A committee of H. J. Hirschheimer, J. S. Medary and L. A. Pamperlin were appointed to assist Egil Hacker in getting the Green Bay road to lay a side track from the present track to his factory on Seventeenth and Madison streets.

President's Report. "Gentlemen—During the year closing October 8, 1907, having been acting as president, in consequence of the president-elect being unable to serve, your directors punished me for my misgovernment by electing me as president, in which capacity I now address you. During that period, there being no session of the state legislature, we were spared the great strain upon our watchfulness, which these sessions necessitates. We have not, however, been idle and I believe that much good has been accomplished.

"The banquet to traveling salesmen given last December was, in every respect, a splendid success and reflected much credit on Messrs. J. C. Burns, L. H. Martin, F. W. Sisson, the committee who had the function in charge. A feeling of good fellowship between employer and salesman was manifested and much of practical suggestion from both sides was presented. The secretary reported a balance resulting of $40.25, which was paid over to the treasurer and added to the general fund.

"The movement for the patronage of home industries was initiated and pushed with vigor and, while not yet carried to the extent contemplated, has resulted, I believe, in a spirit of co-operation between manufacturers, jobbers and their patrons.

"The excursion to river points as far north as Red Wing was an enjoyable affair and created a favorable impression upon the people of the several cities visited.

"The excursion to Waukon was very highly appreciated by the citizens of that hitherto rather neglected territory, and practical results speedily developed.

generous support which was received from all the members on these occasions and which enable the secretary to declare a surplus of $81 which he will keep for future emergencies.

"Several cases of discrimination in the matter of rates have been brought to the notice of your officers, but the entire subject is in a chaotic condition, and it is sometimes difficult to decide who are the beneficiaries or sufferers by the recent voluminous legislation.

"The bi-ennial session of the state legislature will be held during the ensuing year and your experience will remind you of the watchfulness imposed upon you to encourage beneficial, and protest against mischievous legislation. It may possibly be necessary to send a committee, or committees to Madison and I hope that whoever may be deemed worthy of the honor will cheerfully sacrifice personal convenience on the altar of duty.

"I do not think it necessary to enlarge further at present, and thanking you for the hearty co-operation I have received from one and all during the year, I remain

EVANGELIST IS HERE FOR WEEK

J. H. MERKEL OPENS SERIES OF MEETINGS IN LA CROSSE

GOOD CROWD OPENING NIGHT

Well Known Speaker and Singer Will be at the German Baptist church Remainder of the Week

Through the efforts of Rev. E. Berger, the pastor of the German Baptist church, Seventh and Winnebago streets, Rev. J. H. Merkel, the famous singer and evangelist of the faith has been secured for a week of religious meetings here.

Rev. Merkel opened his meetings Sunday evening to a large audience.

Evangelist J. H. Merkel

and beside being a speaker of ability he is also a singer who at once impresses his audiences. He has a deep, clear voice and is a popular speaker. He is a graduate of the Rochester Theological seminary and filled important pulpits until two or three years ago, when he went into evangelistic work.

Meetings are being held every evening and Rev. Berger hopes for a large attendance every evening during the week.

omponent of the authority of the speaker until that official is now more powerful for good or evil to the country than is the president himself.

At the last session of congress Mr. Nelson introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee to revise the rules, and followed it with a speech that attracted national attention. The resolution is still pending, and Mr. Nelson will endeavor to have it brought up for action at the next session. Mr. Nelson takes the position that while in European countries the upper houses of parliament have been subordinated to the people's houses through gradual reforms of procedure, the tendency has been in opposite direction in this country. The senate is a more liberally governed body than the house; has practically taken the control of the purse of the country, and really whips all bills into practical shape for the house. In his remedies Mr. Nelson urges a decentralization of power in the speaker, the enlargement of the committee on rules, recognition of all members in debate, and the appointment of committees on some other bases, say geographical. The selection of the political leader of the dominant party as speaker is also fruitful of abuses. The speaker should be as impartial as a judge, he says.

BOLD ROBBERY AT MILWAUKEE
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 20.—Two armed burglars entered the store of Edward Schuster & Co., third street and Garfield avenue, and after tying the night engineer and watchman, hands and feet, and gagging the watchman, robbed the store of money and valuables to the amount of about $500.

The robbery is one of the boldest pieces of work which has ever been performed in the city. The work of the men indicates that they are experienced burglars and that they had planned their raid carefully.

The two men are described as being apparently young men and well built. They wore shabby clothes and had rude masks, which concealed their features, and slouch hats drawn over their brows.

ENDS LONG SEARCH FOR HIS BROTHER

CHARLES STERLING FINDS HIS NEPHEW IN ST. PAUL

IS FORMER LA CROSSE MAN

After a Search of Years, Part of the Time Being Spent Here, Charles Sterling Locates Relatives

C. A. Sterling, a former La Crosse man who left here but 5 months ago and who is at present engaged in the restaurant business in St. Paul, is one of the parties in an interesting occurrence there. After nearly 50 years of search for his missing brother "Jim" he accidentally met his brother's son in his restaurant on Roberts street in St. Paul.

The Pioneer Press' account of the occurrence follows:
"Is your name Sterling?" asked a young man as he was about to pay his bill for the dinner he had eaten at the Sterling restaurant, 343 Roberts street, last Friday.

"Yes," was the reply of the man behind the counter, and looking up he noticed in the face of the youth a resemblance to his own picture.

"Well, my name is Sterling, too," said the young man.

The restaurant man's memory went back to boyhood days on the banks of the Ohio river, where he and his favorite brother, "Jim" had fished, hunted and had all their good times together. "Your grandfather's name was George and your grandmother's name was Mary?" he asked.

"Yes," said the young man.

"Well, then you are my nephew," said Mr. Sterling and extended his hand over the counter to touch the hand of the only relative he has met in many years and the son of his long lost brother and "pal" of boyhood days.

What Separated Them.
It was a happy moment for the restaurant man. In boyhood days he had a favorite brother, James, at his old home in Ohio. They became separated during the civil war, when they were quite young. The St. Paul man has spent a great many years of his life in a search for his brother, and although he gave up the search some time ago he always entertained the idea that he would see him again some day. He will never see his brother, however, for "Jim" is dead now, but he had the pleasure of meeting his son, whom he had never seen before.

James, the lost brother, and Charles A., or Gerry Arthur, as he was sometimes known, spent their childhood in Finley, Ohio. When James was 17 the war broke out and he ran away to join the blue. A short time after the runaway was back to the parental roof but his roving nature got the better of him and he soon again was in the ranks. He was in many battles. Once he was captured by the rebels and during the exchange of prisoners he was given fifteen days leave of absence, which time he spent at his home. This was the last time the brothers ever met. James, after being honorably discharged at the end of the war, went to Baltimore and shortly after enlisted in the navy. He sent home his discharge papers from the army but his folks never knew that he enlisted in the navy.

It was about this time that the younger brother, Charles, set out in search of James. Iowa was then the home of the Sterlings, and Charles went back to Ohio, thinking he might find James there. Charles covered the whole United States in his wanderings, traveling on foot, in the rear of farmers' wagons and in empty box cars, but he never found the brother.

Only a Block Apart.
In the meantime James' time in the navy had expired. He had lost track of his parents. Later he settled down and married at Ames, Iowa. The young man who walked into the Robert street lunch room last week is one of the sons of that marriage, his name being James Melvin. He is a barber in the employ of the Gleske shop on East Fourth street. This is less than a block from the Sterling restaurant and he has not known of his uncle.

Charles, like James, had a varied experience. He left Iowa when 15 and traveled around for about seven years, during which time he had many exciting experiences, after which he settled in Mediopolis and started business as a railroad contractor. Then he went to Muscatine and ran a restaurant for a year and later moved to Clinton. Later he was at Streator, Ill., where he was married and conducted a restaurant and mercantile business. Later he was at La Crosse and while there organized a telephone and electric company and he is still interested in electric light and telephone companies. He left La Crosse for Austin and from there came to St. Paul. This was five months ago. He walked into the Robert street place to get dinner and before he was through he had bought the place which he now operates.

Mr. Sterling and his nephew are now spending many delightful hours together and comparing notes of the lives of the two men, and it is their plan to have a family reunion at some near date. James died in 1899, but there are a number of members of the old family still alive as well as a number of their descendants.

Little doll mothers are cordially invited to come and see the beauties on exhibition in one of the "Big Store's" Fourth street windows—at Doerflinger's.

HIGH SCHOOL TO TAKE STRAW VOTE

Plans are well under way to have a presidential election at the high school.

If school is dismissed for election day the vote will then be taken but if the city schools should convene on that day it will be held either the day before or the day after.

Speakers chosen from the classes will speak on the platform advocated by the three principal parties which are the republican, the democratic and the prohibitionist. It is hoped in this way that parental influence will not be felt but each student will vote according to his own personal opinion. Professor Schubert, the originator of this plan, says the idea is not to introduce politics into the schools but to acquaint the students who will in the future be the voters of the United States with national affairs.

FIXING TELEPHONE RATES

The basis of the charges of any well managed public service company is the necessity of producing an income that shall pay running expenses, maintain the plant and leave a reasonable profit on the investment. That is the basis on which is built up the scheme of rates of the Wisconsin Telephone Company.

What each subscriber shall be called upon to contribute to this income is determined by the kind of service put at his disposal. Thus subscribers in a large city have within call without toll charges many more telephones than do subscribers in a small village. Furthermore, the plant required in a city is much more costly to build, maintain and operate, than is the equipment of a rural exchange.

While prices necessarily vary for different classes of service the policy of the Wisconsin Telephone Company is to so regulate its charges that its patrons will contribute only enough revenue to properly conduct the business, maintain the plant, and yield a fair return upon the investment. More than that, the public is not asked to do.

CAPT. THOMPSON HOME FOR WINTER

RIVER SUPERINTENDENT GIVES UP HOUSEBOAT ABOVE

COMES FROM FOUNTAIN CITY

$50,000 Has Been Spent This Season Below Winona for Improvements to Wing Dams, Etc.

Captain W. A. Thompson of La Crosse, superintendent of Mississippi river improvement work in this district and also superintendent of the yards at Fountain City, came down to La Crosse on his office boat and houseboat after directing some work being done at Fountain City. He was forced to spend a day in port at Winona on account of the high wind blowing. The government is expending about $70,000 at Fountain City this fall building barges, pontoons, quarter boats and dredges, about forty in number. Capt. Thompson states that $50,000 has been expended in the building of new dams and extension work below Winona this summer. It is hoped to complete this work by the first of next month, when the Elsie will commence the annual hydrographic survey of the river channel from Homer to La Crosse, continuing this work as long as the weather permits. General A. Mackenzie, ex-chief of the United States engineer corps, is the guest of Captain Thompson for a few weeks.

called by State Chairman Edmonds to be held in Milwaukee today.

Some time ago letters were sent to the various county chairmen throughout the state by Chairman Edmonds requesting their presence at a meeting to be held in Milwaukee at Plankinton hotel. The purpose of the meeting according to the letter, was to place the various chairmen in closer touch with each other and in this way systemize the work.

At the time of the calling of the meeting it was given out that the real object of the gathering was to urge the "pushing" of the Stephenson assemblymen throughout the state, but this was denied by local politicians.

The republican campaign in La Crosse county is waxing warm. Meetings are being held regularly in the various towns and villages in the county and the turnouts are good.

Farmers for Taft.
"The republican committee doesn't need to worry about the farmers in the town of Greenfield," said Henry Freehoff of that place this morning. "Everything is for Taft. The farmers out my way are all satisfied with the republican administration in the past four years and are willing to place their confidence in that party for another four years."

Thinks Bangor's Republican.
"In my opinion Bangor will go republican," is the view expressed by John Hatz of Bangor. "The residents in that part of the county favor the county ticket as well as the national ticket and I think that Taft and the county republican ticket will win out there."

Burns for Taft.
"The residents of the town of Burns are going to vote for Taft in the majority," claims Dick Meinking. "That is all you hear from the farmers, although there are some Bryan votes also."

BOOZE DRIVES A SALOONIST INSANE

George Schwartz, a saloonkeeper at 206 North Fourth street, was declared insane after an examination conducted by Drs. Rowles and Alger this morning. Alcoholism is the cause of his insanity. Schwartz was found by an officer in the Milwaukee railroad yards this morning in bad shape and laboring under the hallucination that wild animals were after him. He had been fleeing from these imaginary animals nearly all night and when taken this morning he was a physical wreck. He will probably be committed to the asylum at Mendota.

POLITICIANS ARE VIOLATING LAWS

Attention has been called by Postal Inspector E. E. Fraser of this district to the fact that politicians of both parties are depositing campaign literature in the rural mail boxes, and that such action is illegal. The law forbids the depositing of any mailable matter in these rural boxes which is not properly sealed and stamped, and carriers have instructions to collect and return to the post office any matter deposited in violation of this provision.

SHORT $30,000.

DENVER, Oct. 20.—Theodore C. Tiebolt, former secretary of the Seipp Brewing company of Chicago, was arrested here charged with embezzlement, and spent the day conferring with attorneys, the chief of police and officials of the company. The officials charge that the accounts are short $30,000. His wife, on the verge of a collapse over her husband's arrest, attended the conference. When she entered the chief's office, she saw a number of revolvers lying on the desk, and asked that they be put out of reach of her husband. A settlement without a prosecution is believed to be arranged.

FOUR MORE DAYS FOR KAST IN LA CROSSE

LET NOT HIS DEPARTURE BE YOUR EVER-LASTING REGRET

The announcement has been made that Kast would be in La Crosse only six more days, and at the same time issued a call for all who suffer with Rheumatism and who intend to see him before he makes his departure next Saturday night to do while the time is opportune. That all should do!

Nearly eight weeks ago Kast came to La Crosse to introduce the Rheumaline Remedies for the cure of Rheumatism. It is needless to say that his popularity and the popularity of the Rheumaline Remedies were spontaneous. From its very inception, Kast's visit here has been extremely gratifying to all concerned, and the reason is plain. Kast is master of his chosen vocation, and the Rheumaline Remedies have borne out the proof thereof in each and every case of Rheumatism wherein they have been prescribed. He knows the cause and effect of Rheumatism and the Rheumaline Remedies have verified his indisputable theories.

During Kast's extended visit here, hundreds have sought him at Hoeschler's. More than 350 treatments of Rheumaline have been sold. Scores

If you suffer with Rheumatism, we beg to ask if you are so foolishly as to underestimate the importance of calling on Kast before he goes. Certainly the sure, safe way to quick recovery has been pointed out to you. Will you start your own human craft from the breakers of bodily decay to the haven of physical prime? Remember! Kast will be here only four more days.

The Rheumaline Remedies cure Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgic Gout and all troubles arising from Uric Acid in the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach or Blood.

Price of Rheumaline $1.00 per bottle. Rheumaline Capsules 50c per box. Rheumaline (a liquid) and Rheumaline Capsules compose the Rheumaline treatment for Rheumatism, and must be taken together. Express charges prepaid on all shipments ordered by mail.

Remember: Kast—Rheumaline—Hoeschler's, 123 South Fourth Street.

TODAY'S POLITICAL FACT AND GOSSIP

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 20.—Taft today declared the present panic different from the '93 panic in being in spots, as farm products were never so high, or the farmers more prosperous. He declared that west of the Mississippi you will not find a panic. All that is needed is a restoration of confidence, which is impossible if Bryan is elected.

He will spend today in West Virginia. Gen. Scott, who supplanted Senator Smith of Michigan, is an assistant spellbinder. Representative Bearre of Maryland and State Chairman Geo. Wise of West Virginia joined the party.

Bryan in Indiana
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Bryan left here this morning for Indiana, where he will make a series of speeches today. He will reach Evansville tonight. Tomorrow he goes to Louisville, spending the day in a tour through Kentucky.

Chicago Bryan Crazy
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The real rip-roaring, old fashioned campaign with red fire, roman candles, banners, transparencies, parades, cheering crowds and spellbinding unlimited came back to Chicago with a rush and roar yesterday evening.

"You can't scare a man who is sleeping on the floor by telling him that he is going to fall out of bed," said Mr. Bryan. And his audience cheered long and loud.

This was at Pilsen hall in Pilsen park, but in the half hour before this stage of the proceedings was reached there had been as much enthusiasm aroused as had been evidenced in all the campaign in Chicago up to that time.

One of the principal hits in Mr. Bryan's argument was the following: "I know that if I were a banker I would be ashamed to have a hole in the mattress or an old stocking rival me as a safe depository."

"Mr. Taft says that if I am elected there will be a panic," he went on. "I have heard just one rumor of this kind that seriously worried me. I heard that an eastern cream separator factory would shut down if I were elected. This would only be because the cows would fail to give milk after my election, and the thought of going without milk for four years unnerved me. But I had the cows polled by a friend in Iowa and found it wasn't true."

To "Bust" Labor "Trust."
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Gompers has arrived here to address a labor meeting tonight. In an interview he said: "There is no doubt that there exists a deliberate intention on the part of the republican leaders to wreck the unions by depletion of their treasuries, and proceeding criminally against members under the Sherman act. A complete revulsion of feeling against the republicans has been experienced and a unanimous feeling in favor of Bryan prevails."

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The World this morning publishes a letter from Count Tolstol indorsing William Jennings Bryan, of which the following is an extract:

"Yasnaya, Palyana, Tula Government, Russia, Sept. 28, 1908.—Dear Mr. Ryerson Jennings: In answer to your letter of the 24th of August, I can sincerely say that I wish Mr. Bryan success in his candidature to the presidency of the United States."

Taft Talks of Strike Case

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—Mr. Taft conferred with Frederick Judson of St. Louis, who represented the striking moulders of Milwaukee in the recent litigation before Judge Sanborn, in which the court issued an injunction a week ago, Judge Sanborn modified in some respects a previous injunction of Judge Quarles.

The original injunction, it is said, was based in some respects upon a decision at one time made by Judge Taft and Mr. Taft is said to have told Mr. Judson that he thought the court had somewhat misinterpreted his opinion. Mr. Taft, it is understood, aided Judson in securing a modification of the Milwaukee decision.

Cannon Not Drawing Card.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 20.—Cannon is touring Missouri, making many speeches. The crowds have been only the average size.

Talks About Guarantee.
MONON, Ind., Oct. 20.—Bryan is scheduled for 16 speeches in Indiana today. He discussed the bank guarantee at Rensselaer, where two bankers were convicted of bank wrecking and sent to the penitentiary. He was in consultation with Ohio and New York leaders a part of the day.

Campaign Fund Hoax
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Assistant Treasurer Upham of the republican national committee, this morning received two checks drawn on local campaign fund, one for $5 and the other for $1,000. They were sent to the bank to be cashed and came back marked "no funds."

Debs Is Tired.
COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Debs' special left here this morning with the socialist candidate aboard. He was unable to address a meeting here last night, but stated today he was only temporarily exhausted and has not required the services of a physician and will be able to speak today.

Tillman Back
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Senator Tillman arrived from Europe today on the steamer Kronland. He said: "I will not take an active part in the campaign as it is near the close." He declared he thought Bryan will be elected.

Ohio Their Quest.
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Hitchcock announced today that the hardest work in the closing two weeks of the campaign will be done in Ohio. He declares Indiana and New York are both safely inside the corral. Taft and other spellbinders of prominence will be put to work in the Buckeye state.

$10,000 ON HEADS OF NIGHT RIDERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Gov. Patterson today offered a reward of $10,000 for the capture and conviction of the night riders who last night killed R. Z. Taylor and Quentin Rankin, two prominent lawyers of Trenton. It is not known how they came to be implicated with the night riders.

TAFT BANNER STORM CENTER.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 20.—A giant Taft banner was swung across the principal street of Bryan's town, angering the Commoner's followers. It was blown to shreds by a terrific wind storm. The republican state committee says the banner will fly there until the election is over. Secretary Schwind, of the democratic committee, said that the banner tattered by the breeze was an omen of what would happen to Taft in Nebraska election day.

AID FOR FIRE VICTIMS.

DETROIT, Oct. 20.—The relief committee in charge of raising funds for the sufferers from the fire district have sent 5 carloads of bedding, stoves and clothing to the stricken country. Donations are rapidly being received.

AUXILIARY FOR HUMANE SOCIETY

IMPORTANT SUBSIDIARY ORGANIZATION PLANNED TONIGHT

REV. CLEMENS ENTHUSIASTIC

President of Organization Thinks Much Good Should Be Accomplished by New Society

The plan to organize among the people of La Crosse, especially among the younger set, an auxiliary to work in connection with the Wisconsin Humane society, will be the most important question to be discussed at the regular meeting of the Humane society to be held tonight.

"The plan to organize an auxiliary will be probably the most important thing taken up tonight," said Rev. J. J. Clemens today, "although the election of officers may be held."

"The regular election night comes on the last Tuesday of this month, which would be next week, but we may elect tonight. We have many other important matters to be taken up at tonight's meeting, and in all it will be the most important meeting of the year, and I think we will have a large attendance."

"The auxiliary plan, I think, is a good thing to be promoted here. With the aid of this organization the Humane society can cover its field more intelligently and thoroughly and it would be a good thing for La Crosse's young people."

BRYANT SPEAKS FOR SEN. MORRIS

Attorney James Thompson and B. F. Bryant of this city addressed a large gathering of republicans at the meeting held in West Salem last night. Senator Thomas Morris was originally "booked" for this meeting, but owing to business engagements was forced to give up the trip. This evening a republican rally is to be held at West Salem, addressed by Attorney James Thompson and Mr. Bryant.

Tomorrow night is the big night and local republicans are preparing for a warm reception and good turnout that will undoubtedly be accorded Senator Robert M. La Follette, who speaks at the Auditorium.

THIRD BROTHER SUICIDES

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 20.—The First National Bank of Carroll, yesterday committed suicide, was today placed in the hands of a bank examiner, who began an examination of the books. Culbertson's brothers from St. Louis and Des Moines hurried to Carroll. He was the third brother to kill himself in three years.

HAINSES ARRAIGNED

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Capt. Haines and his brother Jenkins were today arraigned before Justice Garretson of the supreme court, on an indictment charging first degree murder. Neither the brothers nor their counsel would discuss the charges made in the statement of Mrs. Haines yesterday declaring Jenkins to be the cause of the family disruption.

EAST FIRE-SINGED

WELLSVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Forest fires are beginning here with renewed force today. The hills are covered with blazing forests. The wind blew the smoke directly into the town and at midnight darkness prevailed for a time. It is expected that only a long, hard rain will be able to check the flames.

FLY WHEEL BURSTS

KEOKUK, Iowa, Oct. 20.—The bursting of an electric fly wheel last night resulted in the instant death of Eugene Jones, wrecking the building and leaving Keokuk, Hamilton and Warsaw in darkness and without power for traction. The damage is being repaired today.

PENNSYLVANIA AFIRE

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 20.—Forest fires are raging in the mountains of Blair county today and the conditions are becoming alarming. The eastern slope of the Alleghenies for 20 miles is ablaze and many mountain villages are threatened.

$20,000 FOR LUCKY GIRL

DALLAS, S. D., Oct. 20.—The drawing in the land lottery continues with the hope that it will make greater progress than yesterday. May Melsner, who grew the first farm in receipt of hundreds of offers for her claim. It is reported that one offer was $20,000.

WHITE SLAVE BOND FORFEIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—United States Judge Landis today declared the bond of Alfonso and Eva Dufour, indicted as white slave dealers, is forfeited. The Dufours have fled to France. The bond consisted of $10,000 in cash and $16,000 in "Levee" real estate.

When a man has spent an evening calling on ladies they do not spend the first half hour, after he has gone, talking about him, as he imagines, but in picking up things after him. One man can throw more things out of place in an orderly house than a baby.—Atchison Globe.

La France Shoe for Women

There is a La France shoe at this store that will fit your foot—perfect. Fit means more than a shoe that fits fairly comfortably and looks well. It means a glove-like adaptability to the shape, lines and curves of the foot—a fit that is close without being uncomfortable. The picture at the bottom illustrates one particular kind of La France shoe that may interest you. It is the remarkable Flexible Welt, the most elastic and comfortable shoe model ever offered in any other shoe store. This flexibility does not detract from the wearing qualities of the shoe, but does make it the most easy of all shoes, particularly when the wearer is standing or walking.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

Sores and Ulcers are indications of impure blood. They show that the circulation has become infected with germs and poisons, which are being constantly discharged into the open place to irritate the delicate nerves, tissues and surrounding flesh and keep the sore in a state of inflammation and disease. Whether these impurities in the blood are the result of some debilitating sickness, an old taint from a former disease, or whether it is hereditary bad blood, there is but one way to cure sores and ulcers, and that is to purify the blood. Washes, salves, lotions, etc., are often beneficial because of their cleansing, antiseptic effects, but nothing applied to the surface can reach the blood, where the real cause is, and therefore cannot cure. S. S. S. is the remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity or poison, and makes a lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the circulation, so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes and heals the irritated, inflamed flesh and causes the ulcer to fill in with healthy tissue by supplying it with pure, rich blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

POLICEMAN HAS FIGHT FOR LIFE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 20.—Y. A. Hall, 604 Rondo street, armed with a .44 Colt's revolver, and Officer Cleary fought a fierce battle in the street. It lasted for twenty minutes, and but for the presence of mind of a citizen who called for help from the Rondo police station it is probable that one of the combatants might have been killed. Hall landed in the station bleeding from many wounds in his head, and Officer Cleary was tired out with the struggle.

After a Twenty Minute Struggle, During Which Man Tries to Shoot, the Officer Wins

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 20.—Y. A. Hall, 604 Rondo street, armed with a .44 Colt's revolver, and Officer Cleary fought a fierce battle in the street. It lasted for twenty minutes, and but for the presence of mind of a citizen who called for help from the Rondo police station it is probable that one of the combatants might have been killed. Hall landed in the station bleeding from many wounds in his head, and Officer Cleary was tired out with the struggle.

Was a Wife Beater. Hall is a young teamster, six feet tall, and it is said he was beating his wife. Neighbors heard the noise and called the police.

With the aid of neighbors, Mrs. Hall escaped from the house with two blackened eyes and a bloody nose. Officer Cleary was sent to the scene and when he got to the house Hall started a battle. Cleary had succeeded in getting Hall into the street when Hall drew his revolver and the men clinched. The policeman managed to get in a few blows on Hall's head with his club, and finally forced him to drop the revolver.

Terrific Struggle. Then a rough and tumble fight ensued. Both struggled on the ground and the policeman was getting weaker. Hall several times tried

MINNEAPOLIS MAN FIGHTS INTOXICATED FRIENDS

Was Found in Dying Condition Near Northwestern Tracks Near Mankato, Minnesota

MANKATO, Minn., Oct. 20.—Almost dead from loss of blood and lying along side of the Northwestern tracks, about two miles east of this city, a man giving his name as James Allan, and claiming Minneapolis as his home, was found by a freight train crew and taken back to this city, where it was found upon examination, that he had received a knife wound, perhaps four inches long, on the left side of his head.

When found by the train crew, he was thought to be dead. The man's clothing was completely saturated with blood. After reviving somewhat, he made the statement that Saturday he had been drinking with a number of men in Mankato, and late in the night, while walking down the Northwestern tracks with his chums, had become involved in a quarrel with one of them. In the mixup he was stabbed in the head by one of the party.

Allan is too weak and dazed to make any clear statement further than that he wandered on down the

to reach for the pistol and once got it and struck the officer a heavy blow in the face. The men continued to struggle until help arrived from the station. Hall was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.

tracks to where he was found, and, becoming too weak to go any further, lay down in the grass, where he nearly died from exposure and loss of blood.

There was a small amount of money found on the man's person when his clothes were searched, but it is thought he had more and was robbed of it during the fight. At present he is being cared for in one of the city hospitals.

DROGGED TO DEATH BY HIS HORSES

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 20.—Peter Pursley, a well known Marshall county farmer, met his death in a horrible manner as the result of a runaway.

He was returning to his home from an auction sale a couple of miles from his home. His horses became frightened and ran away. Pursley was thrown from the wagon, but in falling his foot caught in the brace of the tongue, and in this position he was dragged face downward for a distance of more than two miles.

Woman Attempts Rescue. The team was still running when Mrs. Rose Sayer, who was driving in the neighborhood, started in pursuit of the runaways with her own team. She finally succeeded in catching and stopping the runaway horses and held them until assistance arrived.

Pursley was dead. His neck and jaw were broken and his head, face and body were terribly mangled. All the clothing had been torn from the body.

Pursley and his wife came to South Dakota only about a year ago from Rensselaer, Ind., and had rented the farm where they resided.

ELOPES WITH HIS FIRST SWEETHEART

WATERTOWN, S. D., Oct. 20.—In a love story that reads like fiction, William Graves and Inga Grudt, both of South Shore, in the north end of this county, won out against the maiden's guardians, a suitor favored by the girl's grandparents, and the law.

Pretty Inga Grudt lived in Denmark till a few years ago when her parents sent her to this country to stay with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emer Grudt of South Shore. They became her official guardians. A handsome young clerk in the town was attracted to the ward of the couple, who heartily approved of his attentions, but not so the girl. She had been won by Will Graves, whose farm joined that of her grandparents. To him she told how she was being annoyed by the attentions of the other suitor, and the sturdy young farmer told her it would stop that night. And it did.

For after the old folks had gone to sleep, in the most approved romantic way, he stole his lady love, procured his license and married her before daylight. The wrath of the guardians and the disappointed suitor of the girl knew no bounds. Swearing out a warrant for the arrest of Graves on the charge of abduction, the principals and witnesses in the

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from Stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspepsia, trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangle after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a hearty, healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or other pills for Bilioussness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach prescription, too, if you ever have Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapiesin.

affair were haled into the municipal court in this city. The girl swore that she was 16 years old last July, and the guardians not being able to swear that she was not, the judge dismissed the case and sent the young couple home with his blessing.

DRIVEN TO THEFT BY DAYS OF HUNGER

MINOT, N. D., Oct. 20.—Desperate from want of food and maddened by their fruitless efforts to obtain work, five young men entered McKinnon's store at Sawyer and relieved the proprietor of over $300. Successful in their attempt, they fled through the back door and struck for the country. A posse was organized at Minot and started in pursuit, locating four of the men in a school house, where they were preparing their midday meal. They were easily captured, making but a momentary effort to escape.

They gave their names as James McMillan, Frank Barr, Harry Clausius and Bernard eRed. The men claim that they had been two weeks in North Dakota without work and that they had walked nearly twenty miles on Saturday. At many places they asked for help and were refused. Then they decided on the step which they took. The fifth man, who has a part of the money, is still at large. The men were well armed, and the authorities are loath to believe the story.

OLD MURDER MAY BE CLEARED UP

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 20.—James Murphy, alias "Shorty" Murphy, thought to be an accomplice in the Minneapolis Bader murder mystery, was arrested at the Union depot in this city by two Minneapolis police detectives.

Murphy is said to be the pal of the mysterious "Curly," the self-confessed murderer, who gave himself up to Little Rock, Ark., authorities, last week, and who is thought to have "welched" and placed the police on the trail of Murphy.

Should the arrest of Murphy prove to the satisfaction of the authorities that he was an accomplice of the man known as "Curly," one of the most baffling murder mysteries in Mill City police circles will have been cleared.

The crime was one of the most coldblooded and daring of police history, and was perpetrated on Christmas eve, 1905, when Charles Bader, proprietor of a saloon near the Milwaukee depot, was shot down in his tracks without a word of warning. The motive was robbery.

WOMAN DENIES FORGERY.

HURON, S. D., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Martha Lapier, arrested in Omaha a few days since, charged with forgery, arrived here in custody of C. E. Young, sheriff of Beadle county. Mrs. Lapier, whose real name is Smith, claims that the check for $2,000 which she presented at the State Bank of Yale, and which that institution honored, was given to her by Hjalmer Larson, the man whose name was signed to it, in his office in Portal, N. D. Mrs. Lapier appeared before Judge Geddis Saturday and waived examination, giving bond for her appearance before the same court Oct. 22. It is quite probable, from statements made by the woman, that some interesting developments will be made at that time.

IS HELD TO GRAND JURY. BEAUDETTE, Minn., Oct. 20.—D. J. Ketcheson was bound over by Judge John Killer to await the action of the grand jury. Ketcheson is charged with assault with intent to kill Ralph Moore at Bert Clark's saloon in Old Spooner.

Ketcheson, it is said, attempted to fire three shots which did not go off. The fourth, however, went off, but a bystander hit the hand that held the revolver. Fortunately the bullet went into the floor.

WOMEN GIVE SKIRTS TO FIGHT BAD FIRE

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 20.—A number of society ladies of Gettysburg proved themselves heroines by taking off their underskirts and aprons and giving them to the men with which to fight a prairie fire. They thus aided in preventing serious damage being done, and played an important part in saving a great deal of property.

GAME WARDEN IN FIGHT WITH INDIANS

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 20.—A report has reached here that in a battle with Indians Deputy Game Warden Peyton and four Indians were killed. The officer was endeavoring to arrest the Indians for infractions of the game laws. The fight occurred in Powell county.

CRUSHED BY BOX CARS.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 20.—Neils Lundblad, 565 Cook street, was probably fatally injured in the Union depot yards. He was crushed between two cars and sustained several broken ribs, a crushed hip and internal injuries. He was taken to Bethesda hospital in the police ambulance, and it is stated at the hospital that Lundblad could not live.

He was foreman of the switching crew and when the accident happened was assisting in switching some cars from a recently arrived train.

AGED WOMAN ATTACKED.

MASON CITY, Ia., Oct. 20.—While asleep in her bed, Mrs. Catherine Nelson was attacked by two men who choked her severely and rendered her practically unconscious. Mrs. Nelson is an aged widow lady who lives in a small cottage near the Milwaukee depot. Mrs. Nelson is in a serious condition from the nervous shock. Four men were arrested, but Mrs. Nelson was unable to identify them, so they were released.

Woman Interrupts Political Speaker. A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaker recently by continually coughing. If she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly and expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. TEDDY FORCES PROSECUTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—Roosevelt has ordered the department of justice to wire District Attorney Duckell to proceed at once with the case of the defunct Farmers' and Drivers' National bank of Waynesburg, Pa. The directors are urging him, through a delegation of depositors to have J. B. Rinehart, former cashier, brought to trial, charged with embezzling $1,020,000 of the bank's funds.

The Call of Nature

When Nature is abused she first calls lightly and then in trumpet tones to the thoughtful man to "get right."

A slight "touch of indigestion," feeling a "little indisposed," "not so well," etc., are the first whisperings of trouble—the warnings.

One can then turn to

Grape-Nuts

and be sure of good results. It is Nature's food improved. Worn out tissues are renewed, weakened digestive organs are strengthened. Good health is quickly wooed and won. Coupled with these certain good results the pleasure of eating Grape-Nuts is a pleasure-plus.

DAME NATURE HINTS

When the Food is Not Sated. When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of breakfast foods, but they were all soft, starchy messes, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating.

"A friend persuaded me to quit the old coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice. I began using them three months ago.

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious diet, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

NEWS OF NEARBY VILLAGES AND TOWNS

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Lillian Stantorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stantorf of this city, and Mr. J. W. Stewart of Muskego, I. T., was solemnized at the Methodist Episcopal church at eight o'clock Monday evening, Oct. 19th, Rev. A. L. Hurlbut of Mt. Zion officiating. The bride was attired in a beautiful white satin empire gown and carried white roses. She was given away at the altar by her father, Mr. E. H. Stantorf, and her only attendant was her younger sister, Miss Clara Stantorf, who wore pink mouseline and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by his twin brother. The church was decorated with ferns and palms, and the wedding march was played by Miss Patricia Garvey. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Stantorf home on Main street. The young couple left on the midnight train for their new home at Henrietta, Oklahoma, where Mr. Stewart has extensive mining interests.

Mr. Arthur Brower has returned from a ten days' visit in Beloit. The marriage of Miss Pearl Kussmaul and Mr. Aaron Hazen took place at the home of the bride's parents, near Eastman, on Monday, Oct. 19th. WISCONSIN NEWS

MEMORY OF VILAS HONORED AT "U"

STUDENTS, FACULTY AND CITIZENS ATTEND SERVICES

MANY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Ex-Governor Hoard, Chief Justice J. B. Winslow, Prof. B.W. Jones and Pres. Van Hise Speak

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—Memorial exercises in honor of William F. Vilas were held in the Armory at the University of Wisconsin this morning. The audience, which numbered nearly 5,000, consisted of regents, faculty, students and alumni of the university, and citizens of Madison. Ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard spoke on behalf of the regents; Chief Justice J. B. Winslow for the state; Prof. G. W. Jones for the college of law, and President C. R. Van Hise on behalf of the university.

More Than Material Benefits
 After reviewing Col. Vilas' almost continuous connection with the university in one capacity or another from the time that he entered as a preparatory student in 1852 until his death fifty-six years later, and after pointing out the great service which he rendered his alma mater as a regent as well as a professor of law, President Van Hise spoke of the significance of the adomment of over $30,000,000 from the Vilas will.

"The benefits of Col. Vilas' will are likely to influence the development of the university long before financial advantages are realized," said President Van Hise. "Those who are striving for the construction of the university along the highest as well as the broadest lines now have the powerful moral support of one of the ablest and most distinguished citizens that has ever lived in this state, of the man who by long study of educational problems in the university has the best right to speak as to its future."

"The will of Col. Vilas is not merely a deed of gift to the university; it is a gift of his highest thought, matured through years of consideration of the educational problems of this state. It is indeed possible that this gift of his mind may be even greater in its influence on the development of the university than the gift of his property. Thus Col. Vilas' will is not merely a financial bequest; it is a profound state paper which is certain to influence perpetually the development of higher education in this commonwealth."

President Van Hise explained that the will provides: first, for a theater, as a memorial to the beloved son, Henry Vilas, who was graduated at the university in 1894, but who died at an early age; second, after providing for this memorial half of the income goes for scholarships and fellowships, for the support of art and music, and for the maintenance of ten research professorships with adequate salaries and assistants.

Believed in University
 Ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard, president of the regents, said:

"Public sentiment revolts today, as it never did before, at selfishness, and honors as it never did before the giving of life, fortune, and great efforts to the nourishment of the souls of men. The man whose memory we honor today has done great things for his state. Although distinguished as a lawyer, soldier, publicist, and legislator, in none did he lay deeper and broader foundations for public esteem than in his relations with this university. Through it all, from the day of his studentship to the crowning act of his life, every effort was marked by the spirit of glad sacrifice in its behalf and for its honor."

"As a regent he was strong and masterful in his grasp of the full meaning of the university in all its many-sided aspects. He was a tower of strength to the conscientious teacher and investigator; an advisor of rare insight to the student; a vigilant guardian of its financial resources; and a profound believer in its future; and a staunch supporter of its logical development, in the halls of legislation. As I contemplate the relation that Col. Vilas bore to the university, I am deeply impressed with the retroactive effect which grew out of that relation. Both came together in their youth; both fostered and nourished each other; both became great in human estimation and usefulness; a great school and a great man welded in affectionate regard for each other to the final glory and advancement of a great commonwealth. There is much in this contemplation to inspire ambition, patriotism, and honorable effort on the part of the noble youth of our state."

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

How to Save $2 on Cough Medicine by Making it at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, are mostly syrup. You can take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add half a cup of water, stir and let boil just a moment. This makes a pint of syrup as good as you could buy.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex, put in a clean pint bottle and fill up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. The Granulated Sugar costs, say, 4 cents and the Pinex 50 cents. The recipe makes a full pint of excellent cough syrup, which keeps indefinitely, at a cost of about 54 cents. You couldn't buy as much ready-made cough syrup for $2.50. This shows a clear saving of about $2.

This home-made remedy will stop an obstinate, deep-seated cough quickly—usually in 24 hours. It is also splendid for colds, whooping cough, pains in the chest, bronchial troubles and similar ailments. Dose, one teaspoonful every one, two or three hours as required. The taste is very pleasant.

The effectiveness of this remedy is easily understood. The Syrup is an excellent sedative. The Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, and contains all the natural elements which make the air of the pine forests so effective in curing tuberculosis. There are many pine tar and pine oil preparations, but in making cough syrup on this recipe be sure to use the real Pinex itself. Your druggist has it, or will gladly get it for you.

greatness than he whom we commemorate today," said Chief Justice J. B. Winslow. "Great in learning, great in the power of his intellect, great in his grasp of affairs, but greatest of all in that last act by which he dedicated the bountiful fruits of a busy and successful life to the cause of learning and human advancement for all time to come."

"Col. Vilas served his country in many capacities; as a soldier on mid-night march and blood-stained field; as a counselor in the national cabinet and in legislative halls; as an executive officer on administrative boards of various kinds, both state and national; he freely gave his splendid abilities to the service of the people with single hearted and patriotic devotion."

Cleveland's Close Adviser.

Judge Winslow then reviewed Col. Vilas' career as a soldier, as postmaster general and as secretary of the interior in President Cleveland's first cabinet, and as senator; and paid high tribute to the ability that he displayed in each of these capacities. Of his work as a member of the cabinet, the speaker said:

"It is but the simple truth to say that Col. Vilas became one of President Cleveland's closest friends and advisers, if not indeed the very closest. While markedly different in many ways, they absolutely agreed in viewing public office as a sacred trust from the people, the duties of which were to be performed with a single eye to the public good. There were great questions before the council board, and there were great men there to meet them, but among all the president's advisers there was none endowed with higher ability or greater grasp of mind than Col. Vilas. Perhaps no man in that cabinet can be said to have had a dominating influence for the president himself was ever dominant, but certain it is that no question was ever debated was not illuminated by his clear, logical and eloquent discussion of it, and upon very many questions his opinion was accepted as decisive."

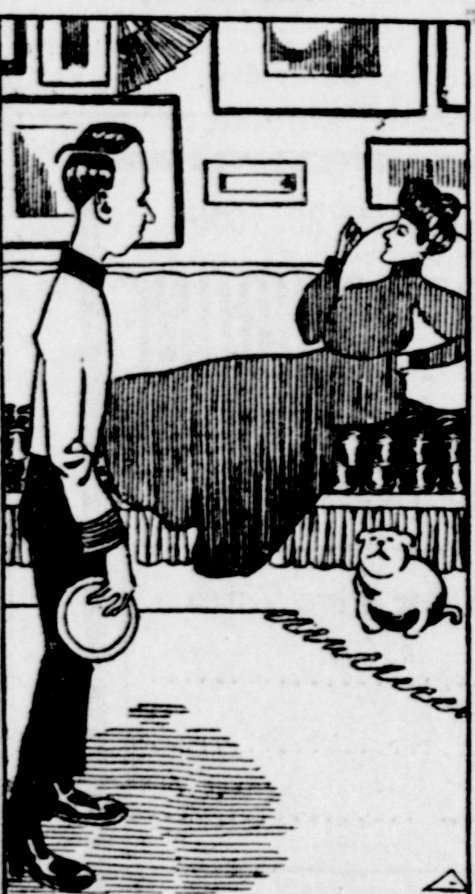

Prof. Burr W. Jones spoke of Col. Vilas in relation to the university as professor of law from 1868-85.

LA FOLLETTE HAS STARTED ON TOUR

WILL PUT IN BUSY TIME FROM NOW TO ELECTION

F. W. M'KENZIE RESIGNS

Leaves Chair as University Editor to Take Position on the Editorial Staff of La Follette's Paper

MOUNT HOREB, Wis., Oct. 20.—United States Senator Robert M. La Follette has begun his stumping tour in Wisconsin. Before an audience of 800 people in the opera house here the senator made his first campaign address for 1908. Yielding to the persuasion of the Dane county republican committee, Senator La Follette decided to make some day speeches in Dane county.

Senator La Follette was in fine voice and strongly praised the work of John M. Nelson in congress and telling of his gallant fight in his own party against the rules of the house of representatives.

At Verona in the afternoon Senator La Follette had an audience of 400 and it is said that he will make a large number of addresses in Sheboygan county on Thursday.

On the day devoted to Milwaukee county also Senator La Follette expects to make at least three speeches. He will travel in part by train and in part by automobile. Both trains and autos were used in Dane county.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—Fred W. MacKenzie of Milwaukee has resigned his position as editor of the publications at the state university to accept an editorial position on Senator R. M. La Follette's new weekly, to be issued this month.

His resignation will be acted upon by the board of regents at their monthly meeting on Wednesday. It is understood that Charles Gillett of Superior, of the class of 1907, now city editor of the Superior Telegram, will be appointed to fill the vacancy.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

MADISON—August Rael, 822 Winnebago street, Milwaukee, a book agent, was touched for about $15 by a negro with whom he had been drinking in a saloon.

MADISON—Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Hall and their two children were poisoned by eating meat, but are now out of danger.

NEILLSVILLE—Due to ptomaine poisoning, caused, it is believed, by some chicken served for dinner, the family of Jerry Randall for a time was in a precarious condition. A babe in which Mrs. Randall had given birth a few hours before partaking of the meal died.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Washington L. Maurer of Beloit, Wis., and Philip B. Whitehead of Janesville, Wis., are among those of the 1908 class who received Allis scholarships at the Yale theological school.

RHINELANDER—Mrs. S. W. Rice, aged 62 years, mother of a large family, fell down stairs from the second story apartment where she was living and broke her neck.

WABINO—Mrs. Jacob Gerl, a widow, committed suicide by hanging. Since the death of her husband a year ago she continued his saloon and hotel business.

JANESVILLE—Albert Dorsey pleaded guilty today to the charge of receiving property alleged to have been taken forcibly from Herman Peschke by one James Cale on the night of Oct. 10, and was committed to the state prison for eighteen months. Cale waived examination and his trial on the charge of holding up Peschke was set for next Monday.

JANESVILLE—The C. and N.W. railway company has a force of 150 men laying rails in the old freight yards. When the work is finished the double tracking from Chicago to Janesville will be completed.

NEENAH—A desire to see his wife and child at St. Paul caused James Lueders of Menasha to forge his former employer's name, Wm. Wheeler, to three checks, aggregating $59.50. He went to St. Paul, visited a week, returned here, and was arrested by the chief of police. He admits he forged the checks, but says he was homesick for his family. His hearing will be held tomorrow.

FOX LAKE—The six Milwaukee hunters who were arrested here for shooting in open water pleaded guilty before Justice Parkinson and were fined $25 and costs each. One fine being paid, sentence on the other five was suspended.

The Dollies have arrived at Doerflinger's.

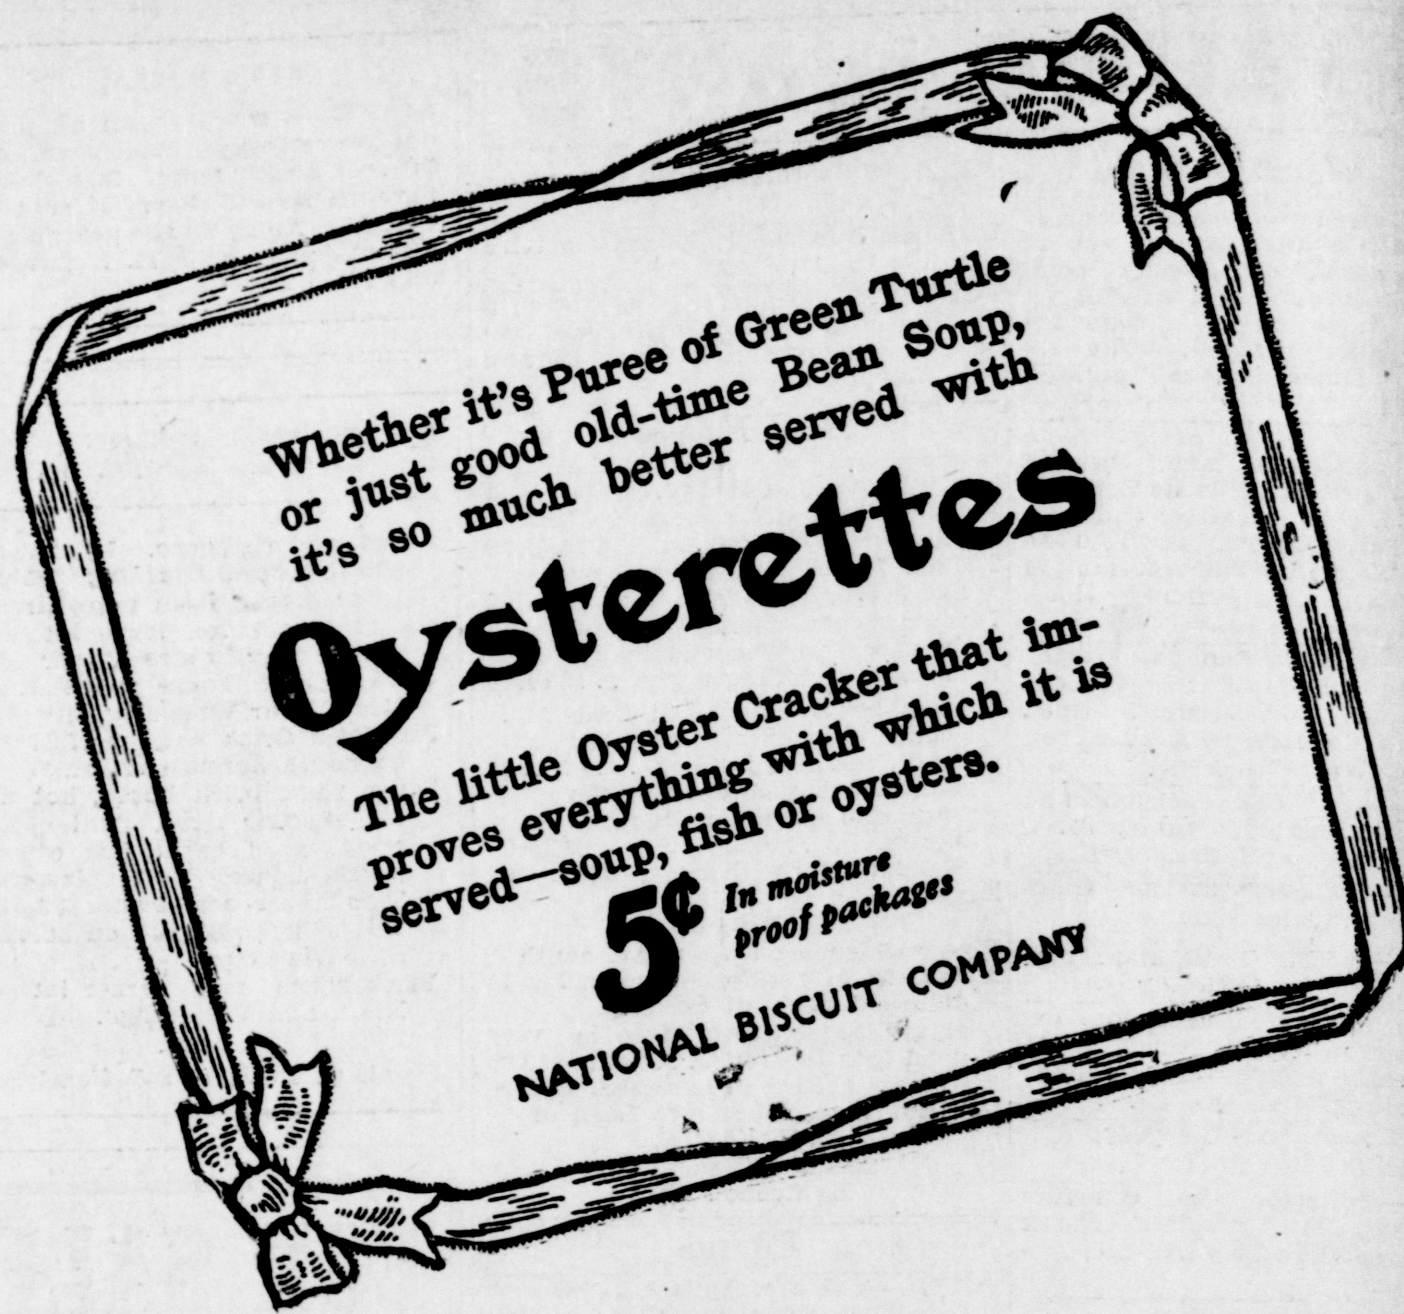

MORRIS CANCELS SPEAKING DATES

All dates for political speeches this week have been cancelled by Senator Thomas Morris owing to business engagements that necessitate his presence outside the county.

He left today for Whitehall, Monroe county, to attend the opening of the October term of circuit court there, and after finishing business there will leave for Minnesota.

Attorney E. C. Higbee also left for Whitehall on circuit court business at that place.

TRY TO PROVE MACHINE ASSET

An examination in the bankruptcy proceedings against E. O. Orvik was held in Judge Baldwin's court this morning. Attorney Hartwell of the firm of Morris & Hartwell appearing for the creditors, while James Thompson appeared for Orvik.

At the time of his going into bankruptcy he claimed that certain machinery used by him in his contracting business had, at a previous date, been turned to his wife for a loan of about $1,000.

The attorneys for the creditors are trying to prove that the machinery is in reality a part of Orvik's assets, thus adding a big sum.

Orvik was on the stand the greater

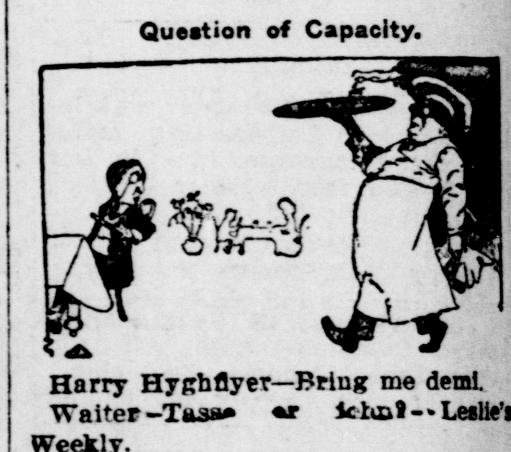

KOSBAB ARRESTED FOR NON-SUPPORT

On complaint of Humane Officer C. H. Gerry, William Kosbab has been arrested charged with the non-support of his wife and children. He was arraigned before Judge Brindley yesterday, waived examination and will appear on November 19.

Kosbab is of a wandering nature and at times will leave home for a year at a time, never writing or communicating with his family, to say nothing of furnishing anything towards their support.

After his arrest he drew an order for $12 to be used in supporting his children and this was turned over to Mr. Berry.
